FIRST YEAR COURSES

ACADEMIC SESSION 2026/2027

Course 510

Personal Transformation:

This foundational course on personal transformation seeks to get to the root of our individual life and deal with matters arising. If we have only one life to live as is truly the case, what will it take to make the most of that one life? Unless there is a change, there can be no change. The goal of the course is to help participants make the personal commitment to becoming the version of themselves that can fulfill their life mission. This course will define change, the process of change, the price of change and the ultimate purpose of change. At the end of this course, participants will understand keys to transformation, steps to transformation and the process of transformation.

Course 512

Understanding the Laws of the Universe:

Are there laws that govern the universe? Are there laws that govern life on earth? In creating the universe, did God subject the universe to any laws? What do the best in class in every field of human endeavor have in common? Life on earth is governed by fixed laws, which scientists discover by observing God, the creator and nature, the creation of God. This course about discovering and observing laws is fundamental to all of success on this earth, irrespective of how that success is defined. This course will inspire each participant to embark on a journey of self-discovery and God-discovery. At the end of this course, the participants will understand how life on earth works and why some people and some nations are more successful than others.

Course 514

Life and Time Management:

Your time is your life, and how you manage your time is how you manage your life. Calendars are important because we use them to not just know our day, but our lives. In this course the participants will understand how to plan their lives and why effective people have daily routines and make themselves slaves to those routines. At the end of this course, each participant will understand how to employ the almighty formula to organize their lives around their goals and commit to completing their life assignment.

Course 511

Life Mission I:

Why did God create the earth? Why are we here? Why are you here? Why were you born? Since the time immemorial man has been searching for the meaning of life. This course will explore the precept of a global life purpose. God created each of us for good works, which He ordained before time began. God has already assigned to each person a special task in this life. At the end of this course, the participant will understand that their supreme task in life is to find, focus on, follow, fight for, fulfill and finish this task. This task, which is your life assignment is the reason you should live, and finishing it, is the highest priority of your life. At the end of this course, the participant will commit to living out their purpose and prioritizing God's kingdom.

Course 513

The Law of Time:

What is time? Time is an earthly phenomenon and is a pause in the continuum called eternity. In this course we will explore the importance of time, its origin, the source, and time as the currency of life. At the end of this course, the participants will understand that time is not just money, but the currency of life on earth, that what they do with time is what they have done with their whole life and that with the currency of time they can buy greatness.

Course 515

Relationships, Marriage and Family Enrichment:

We are created for relationships. In the Garden of Eden, God could find no suitable companion for Adam. God created the first institution right there in the garden. Marriage as the oldest institution on earth is the foundation of any society. In this course we explore the family unit as the foundation of society, and we also consider the implications of a broken home and its lasting negative impact on society. At the end of this course, the participants will understand the importance and the role of marriage, and how to build a successful family as a prerequisite for success in any given society.

Course 516

Dynamics of Vision:

In this course we define and explain vision. Paul the apostle said, "I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." This course explores how to download the heavenly vision, which is God's vision for your life. The objective of this course is to help each participant understand and appreciate that no one ever needs to be roaming about as a wondering generality in this life. Each person was created to be a meaningful specific. Each participant will embark on the process of pursuing God's vision for their lives and building their life on that vision. At the end of this course, the participants should understand that all things are created twice and that God had each person in mind long before they were born.

Course 518

Principles of Making the Most of Life:

What will it take to make the most of your life? In Understanding the Laws of the Universe, we explored the principles necessary to maximize our life on earth. We looked at the habits successful people have in common and emphasized the laws they live by. In Principles of Making the Most of Life, we learn to apply these laws to our lives. At the end of this course, each participant should be able to count the cost of making the most of their life and be presented with the opportunity to decide on how they will spend the rest of their lives.

Course 531

Dynamics of Faith:

What is faith? Faith in God is fundamental to all of life. Those who change their world must believe in God and against all odds take corresponding action to their faith. Through faith we understand that the worlds, that is, the universe were framed by the word of God, so that things which are visible were made of things which are invisible. This course explores the subject of faith. By the end of this course, the participants will understand what faith is, and how to use faith to change their world.

Course 517

Mind Shift:

We cannot rise above our minds, and everyone is limited by their mindset. In this course we explore the importance and role of the mind in human existence, the types of mindsets that exist and how to put on the mind of Christ. Building on the course Personal Transformation, the objective of this course is to help the participant make the mental adjustment necessary to fulfill their destiny. At the end of this course, the participants will make the shift that will help them make the leap in life.

Course 519

Leadership Development:

Who is a leader? Are leaders born or made? In a survey by Times Magazine Jesus was voted as the greatest leader who ever lived. Jesus left no earthly monuments, owned very little, was not even married and therefore left no biological children. In this course we will learn that leadership is not a title that leaders make a difference and leaders change the world. This course explores the concept of leadership. At the end of this course, the participants should be able to define leadership, define types of leaders and understand the foundation and price for enduring leadership.

Course 532

Walking with God:

Enoch walked with God and he was not. How did Enoch, the seventh from Adam walk with God? Why was Enoch translated that he did not pass through the portals of death? This course explores what it means to walk with God. Every New Testament Christian is a priest and is expected to walk with God and to work for God. This is called the priesthood of the believer. At the end of this course, participants will understand what it means to walk with God as a foundation for working for God.

Course 533

The Price of Destiny:

This course is focused on the price of fulfilling purpose. The questions is, why does God use men and what is the price of being used by God? God uses only what belonged to him. In other words, for God to use you, you must become God's person. At the end of this course, participants will understand how to go through God's process to become God's person and what it means to partner with God.

Course 535

The School of Life:

Based on life lessons spanning many years and the book, Lessons from the School of Life, this course is focused on understanding the nature and curriculum of the school of life. Life is a school and there is a way life works. There are no failures in life, but only those who do not know the laws that govern life on earth and or know the laws and fail to observe them. At the end of the course, participants will understand that they are automatically enrolled in the school of life and will be acquainted with the nature of the school of life.

Course 521

Team Building

There are four levels of leadership. To lead at the highest level each leader must build teams. Effective team building is a prerequisite for building enduring organizations. At the end of this course, participants will look critically at the meaning of team building, learn the skills necessary to form and lead teams, and understand the role of effective teams in fulfilling the vision and mission of an organization.

Course 534

Prayer Power:

It came to pass as Jesus prayed in a certain place, His disciples said "teach us how to pray." How did Jesus pray? How should we pray? What are the keys to effective praying? Prayer has been described as a master key and is meant to be a two way traffic. The goal of this course is to help the participant become more effective in their personal prayer ministry. At the end of this course, the participants should be able to hear the voice of God and commit to conversational prayer for the rest of their life.

Course 520

Organizational Growth

How do you fulfill a vision? Every vision must grow into an institution if it will transcend time. This course is built on the premise that if a vision is not organized into a system, it cannot be sustained. At the end of the course, the participants will understand why a leader must overcome himself, transition to intuitional thinking, understand the process of growing an organization and learn to develop the skills needed to grow an organization.

Course 522

Money Matters I

Why does money answer all things? How do you solve and resolve the puzzle of money? Jesus said you cannot serve God and Mammon. Martin Luther said there are three conversions: the conversion of the heart, of the mind and of the purse. In this course, participants will analyze money and its nature, learn that money is a poor master, but a great servant, answer the question of how much money they will need in their lifetime and where it will come from and learn that creating wealth is a matter of covenant.

Course 523

The Holy Spirit:

Who is the Holy Spirit? Why do we need the Holy Spirit? How does God guide His children? In this introductory class to the supernatural, participants will learn the absolute necessity of the Holy Spirit in living an effective Christian life. At the end of the course, each participant will be immersed in the person of the Holy Spirit and accept His leadership, especially in finding, following and fulfilling their life mission.

Course 525

How to Study the Bible:

The Bible, called the book of books, is a collection of inspired writings of over 40 authors. It is a library of books and the book that changed the world. It is also the most sold book in the world. At the end of this course, participants will acquaint themselves with the Bible and its authorship. They will learn how to read the Bible from cover to cover and commit to life-long reading, meditating and studying of the book.

Course 527

Blueprint for Nigeria

Why did God create Israel? Why did God create the United States of America? Why did God create Nigeria? Nigeria, the most populous black nation on earth has a redemptive role to play in the continent of Africa, the continent of the black man. At the end of this foundational course, participants will understand God's purpose for the Nigerian nation, her global leadership role in Africa and in the context of the rest of the world and the reason for the battle for her soul.

Course 524

Money Matters 2

Where will you find money to fulfill your purpose? In Money Matters 1, we considered what money is, its nature, its importance and the need to understand its role in fulfilling our life mission. At the end of this course on Money Matters 2, participants will discover how and where to find money to fund their mission and their current or future organization.

Course 526

Understanding the Purpose of Nations:

Why did God create man? Why did God create the earth? What is the purpose of the earth? What is a nation? Where do nations come from? All the nations of the earth come from one source, Adam and God called Israel His first born. Nations are people groups banded together by God or providence or both to fulfill a particular pre-determined agenda by God. The objective of this course is to understand the origin and purpose of nations. At the end of this course, participants will understand the origin and purpose of nations, understand God's purpose for the earth, and why Israel is first born among nation.

Course 528

Developing Staying Power:

Life is full of challenges and we all face adversities. If you faint in the day of adversity, your strength is small. Successful people are often propelled by adversity. This course explores the purpose of adversity and emphasizes how to respond to adversity. The objective of this course is to help the participants develop staying power, which is a prerequisite to maximizing opportunities and life. At the end of the course, participants will learn how to increase their Adversity Quotient (AQ) and the role of overcoming adversity in fulfilling their life mission and purpose.

Course 529

Life Mission II

In Life Mission I, we understood the precept of a general life purpose and established that God has a purpose for each life. We do not make up our purpose on earth, since it is the reason, we exist or were born or were created. Our purpose is written in our DNA, therefore, we simply desire it or have it delivered to us or demand it from God or ultimately discover it. In this course participants explore the seven movement questions. At the end of this course, participants should understand how to find their purpose and the absolute necessity of fulfilling their life mission.

Course 542

Personal Development:

We are each allotted 24 hours in any given day. That has been pre-determined. What we do with our limited time depends on us. We cannot create more time, but we can create more value. In order to create value, we have to become valuable ourselves through education. In this course, we explore the various forms of education. At the end of this course, the participants will understand the basic concept of value, how to increase value through education and how to embark on life-long learning through self-education.

Course 544

Blueprint for Nigeria II

The ability to build systems is the key to solving and resolving every problem. God is a God of systems. There are 11 major organ systems in the human body, each made up of specialized organs that work together to keep the body going. Those who build systems like Microsoft or Facebook or Zenith Bank or Opay or African Capital Alliance rule the rest of the world. The developed world is a concentric circle of systems. The United States of America is the greatest country on earth. "The lesson of the last 200 years of American history is that Americans do not wait for miracles; they go to work and God works the miracles through them." Systems are the miracles. Whatever is not systematic is not sustainable. At the end of this course, the participants will be able to define a system, learn how to build systems and commit to thinking in systems for the rest of their lives.

Course 541

Lessons from the Life of Paul:

Paul was a towering figure in the New Testament era and disciplined many Christians. He was an Apostle of no small repute and a Pastor to Pastors. He was also the most prolific Christian writer of that era. He wrote 13 out of 27 books of the New Testament. He had close encounters of the God kind, lived a fulfilled life and finished his course. Paul the apostle pioneered the gospel of the kingdom to Europe. In this course, participants will explore the life, times, and ministry of Paul the apostle. At the end of this course, participants should understand the pattern, process and price of finishing their life's assignment.

Course 543

Seeking God's Kingdom:

In the book of Matthew, Jesus said "Seek you first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you (Matthew 6:33)." God has never called us to seek blessings! He has never called us to seek breakthroughs, and God has never called us to seek deliverance the way people go about it today. God called us to seek His kingdom and its righteousness. At the end of this course, each participant will understand the meaning and the nature of the kingdom of God, what it means to seek the kingdom of God and His righteousness and how to make seeking the kingdom of God the priority of their life.

Course 545

Values Transformation:

Values are guiding principles and deeply held beliefs that govern and shape an individual's decisions, behaviors and interactions. Both individuals and nations have values. Righteousness, which means being in right relationship with God, and involves living aligned with God's character, will, justice—acting with integrity, honesty, and fairness towards others exalts a nation. At the end of this course, participants will understand that nations do not transform nor are they great by the virtues of their wealth but because of the wealth of their values.

Course 546

How and Why, Nations Become Great:

In just a few years, the United States surpassed Europe to become the global superpower. After touring America in 1831, French philosopher Alexis de Tocqueville captured in two volumes (1835, 1840) and in his book Democracy in America, how American society functioned differently. This course explores the core principles of American democracy, its political structure, and the lessons behind its rise to greatness.

Course 548

Pentecostal and Charismatic Missions in Nigeria:

From about 10 independent churches in the 1970s to explosive growth driven by local awakenings, student revivals during Nigerian civil war, influence of Pa Sydney Granville Elton and indigenous leadership, the Pentecostal and Charismatic mission grew in Nigeria. At the end of this course, the participants will explore the transformation of Nigeria's religious landscape, the competitive dynamics under which these missions grew, and why the rapid rise of the Pentecostal and Charismatic missions in Nigeria did not translate to nation building

Course 550

Power In God's Word:

The phrase "God's Word" or "Word of God" is primarily a theological term used across Abrahamic religions. This course is focused on the study of the origins, compilation, and canonization of the Bible, and why it has survived for over 2000 years. At the end of this course, the participants will understand the divine and human influences on scripture, how the Bible was canonized and why the Bible is considered the Book that changed the world.

Course 547

Pentecostalism in Africa:

Pentecostalism has grown rapidly and dramatically becoming an increasingly prominent feature of Africa's religious and political landscape. Pentecostals now make up 12% (107 million) of Africa's population, with explosive growth since the 1960s. At the end of this course, participants will explore why this rapid religious growth has not transformed Africa's economic landscape and what must be done going forward.

Course 549

The Protestant Reformation:

The Reformation, also known as The Protestant Reformation, was a 16th-century theological movement that challenged the papacy and the Catholic hierarchy, marking the beginning of Protestantism. It began on October 31, 1517, when Martin Luther published his Ninety-five Theses in Wittenberg, protesting corruption and the sale of indulgences. Considered a turning point between the Middle Ages and the modern era, the Reformation profoundly shaped religion, politics, and society. At the end of this course, participants will understand why the Reformation is one of the great events in human history, its role in human development, and why it is regarded as a foundation for the modern world and the Industrial Revolution.
